RANDALL'S SCHEME.

Summary of the Measure which He will Introduce.

BILL TO CATCH REPUBLICANS

The Protective Principle Fully Maintained—Reduction of Seventy Millions in the Internal Revenue and Twenty-five Millions in the Customs.

WASHINGTON, March 11.—Randall has completed his tariff bill, and will introduce it in the house to-morrow. In explanation of its terms and scope, he makes following statement:

The bill repeals the internal tax on tobacco and on fruit brandies. It also repeals the license tax on wholesale and retail liquor dealers, leaving these as recommended by Jefferson, so that the state authorities might adopt them. It makes alcohol used in the arts free, and reduces the tax on whisky to 50 cents per gallon. This tariff bill is a careful and complete revision of the whole tariff system. It carries to the free list a large number of articles now paying duties and which enter into consumption either as raw material or otherwise, and in the production of which there is no injurious competition between this and other countries. In the revision of the tariff the aim has been intelligently to apply consistent principles to all branches of industry and in so doing our industrial system has been considered as a whole, and differing from other industrial systems in the important fact that labor in this country receives a larger share of the annual products of labor and capital combined than in any other country. This important advantage to the labor interests of the United States the bill aims to preserve throughout, while at the same time, "in fairness to all interests," as stated in the Chicago platform, "to reduce and equalize duties on imports." The principles applied to the revision of the tariff in this bill are:

First—That difference in the cost of producing commodities in this and other countries where there is no climatic or other natural cause why they cannot be produced abundantly in this country, has been studied and everywhere adhered to as the cardinal principle to be enforced in any revision of the tariff.

In such a scheme all industries, of course, should stand on equal footing, and in no instance should the powers of the government be used to elevate one above another. In other words, our industrial system must be considered as a whole, in which all who participate in it share its benefits, whether they are engaged in one industry or another. The principle of great importance has been kept constantly in view, and that is that the line which marks the difference in the cost of producing commodities here and abroad, in other words the line of fair competition, is always and necessarily above the point of maximum revenue. Consequently to reduce duties on any commodity below the line of difference in cost, which, as stated, is the line of even competition, until the line of maximum revenue is passed, necessarily increases the revenue. On the contrary, to raise duties from the line of maximum duty by lessening importations, reduces revenues. This principle has been kept in view throughout the bill in the adjustment of duties. To determine just where the line of difference in cost falls is, of course, in many instances difficult, but it may be safely assumed when importations in any line of commodities are large and increasing, and no good reason appearing why things cannot as well be produced here, that such duties are below the cost line and that the advantage is with the foreign product. If production in the same line is diminished, or suspended altogether, in this country, it becomes proof positive that the advantage is too great to be overcome without the readjustment of duties. In such cases, embracing however, but few articles, there has been no hesitancy in preparing this bill to raise duties so as to permit these industries to take their place abreast with others in this country, where importations are light and increasing it may consistently be assumed that duties are quite high enough and, in many cases may be safely reduced and in case the industry is of such a nature as to permit trusts and combinations of any kind to raise prices above the level of prices or profits in other industries, then it becomes important that the cost line should be closely adhered to and that has been the aim in this bill in industries where trusts or combinations are supposed to have such power. It is less important, of course, to apply this rule rigidly where prices are regulated through free competition.

In accordance with well known economic principles the tendency is always to a general level in profits, wages, and prices in any industrial system. In working out the details of the bill under these principles, the aim has been to pare closely, and adjust carefully, the different schedules, with the object always in view to lower duties wherever possible, and to reduce revenues, being careful at the same time to hurt no established industry. The estimated reductions under this bill will be: On internal taxation repealed $70,000,000; estimated reduction on tariff schedules, $25,000,000. The rates will not suit many engaged in manufactures, but are deemed a fair and proper response to the demand for reduced rates in our tariff law.

The bill is fully twice as long as Mills's bill, and relates to many subjects. Following are some of the more important provisions: Taxes on manufactured tobacco, snuff, cigars, cheroots and cigarettes, and special taxes required by law to be paid by manufacturers of, and dealers in, leaf tobacco, retail dealers in leaf tobacco, dealers in manufactured tobacco, peddlers of tobacco, snuff and cigars, and manufacturers of snuff and cigars are repealed after July 1 and all stamps issued shall be redeemed.

All laws imposing internal revenue tax upon spirits distilled from apples, peaches or other fruits are repealed from the first day of July. All laws which impose any special taxes upon manufacturers of stills, wholesale and retail liquor dealers, and wholesale and retail dealers in malt liquors are repealed from the 1st of July. The secretary of the treasury shall grant permission to any firms, individual or corporation, to withdraw from bond alcohol, or any spirits containing alcohol subject to internal revenue tax in specified quantities of not less than 20 proof gallons without payment of internal revenue tax on the same, or on spirits, for which it may be distilled for the sole purpose of use in such industrial pursuits as shall be specified in the permit.

Penalties are provided for violation of the above provisions where the intention is to defraud. Weiss beer, containing less than two and a half per cent alcohol, shall not be subject to internal revenue tax. Tax on distilled spirits shall be 50 cents per gallon, and rebates are allowed to that which has paid the present tax out of the treasury. There are many changes in chemicals, earthenware and glassware, and the changes are in nearly every instance reductions. On metals the chief changes are as follows: Copper ores, 1½ cents in each pound of copper contained; old copper and clippings for manufacture, 2 cents; composition metals and ingots, plates or bars, 2½ cents; iron ore, 5 cents per ton, as at present, but a new provision is added forbidding deductions in duty on account of moisture. Pig iron is unchanged. Bar iron, rolled or hammered, comprising flats not less than one inch solid nor less than three-eighths of an inch thick, 8-10ths of 1 cent per pound; comprising round iron not less than three-quarters of one inch in diameter and square iron not less than three-quarters of one inch square, 10ths of 1 cent; comprising flats less than one inch wide or less than three-eighths of one inch thick; round iron less than three-fourths of one inch, and not less than seven sixteenths of one inch in diameter, and square iron less than three-fourths of one inch square, 1 cent; round iron in coils or rods less than seven sixteenths of one inch in diameter, one and one tenth of 1 cent; rolled iron or steel wire rods, coils or loops, valued at 3½ cents or less per pound, 1 cent; bars or shapes of rolled iron not especially enumerated or provided for in this act, 1 cent per pound, provided that all iron in slabs, blooms, loops or other forms less finished than iron in bars and more advanced than pig iron, except castings, shall be rated as iron in bars, and pay duty accordingly, and none of the above iron shall pay a less rate of duty than 35 per cent ad valorem; provided further, that all iron bars, blooms, billets or sizes or shapes of any kind in the manufacture of which charcoal is used as fuel shall be subject to a duty of not less than $2[illegible] per ton.

In fact, the entire list of iron and steel manufactures is reduced almost without exception, though the reductions are often only slight. A few new classifications in metals, such as gold pens, for instance, are created. In wood and manufactures of wood the same reductions are observable.

There are no changes made in the present sugar schedule, except the new provision requiring sugar drainings, or sweepings, to pay duty as sugar, or molasses, according to test. There is an increase of the duty on confectionery not enumerated from 10 to 15 cents per pound. There is an addition of the section imposing a tariff of 1 cent per pound on glucose, or grape sugar.

Relating to tobacco, the following changes are made: Leaf wrappers, unstemmed sixty cents; stemmed, eighty cents. Unmanufactured, [illegible] thirty cents. Horses and mules $10 per head; cattle $4; hogs and sheep 50 cents; other live animals 20 per cent. Oranges in bulk $1 [illegible] per 1000. Hops 6 cents a pound. Salt in bags, sacks and packages, 10 cents per hundred, in bulk 8 cents. The only change made in wines, liquors etc., is the inclusion of a new section fixing the duty on malt extract at [illegible] per gallon in casks, 40 cents in bottles, [illegible] 20 per cent ad valorem on solid extract; [illegible] and prune juice, or wine, or other fruit wines, containing not more than [illegible] per cent [illegible] cents per gallon, or if [illegible]. Ginger beer or ale, 25 cents per dozen bottles for three fourth pints and 5 cents for one half pints.

All cotton cloth not exceeding 100 threads to the square inch, counting warps and fillings, not bleached, dyed, colored, stained, painted or printed, valued at over [illegible] cents per square yard; bleached valued at over 8 cents per square yard; dyed, colored, stained, painted or printed, valued at over 10 cents per square yard, 35 per cent ad valorem. Cotton between 100 to 200 threads to the square inch not bleached, 2½ cents per square yard; bleached, 3½ cents; dyed and stained, 4½ cents and 35 per cent ad valorem. Cotton exceeding 200 threads, unbleached 3½, bleached, 4½, dyed, 5½, and 35 per cent ad valorem. On flax, hemp, jute, of cloths and bags the changes, while not great, are generally reductions. Clothing and combing wools are unchanged, carpet and other wools 3 cents. Ring waste, thread waste, [illegible] waste, top waste and other similar products of wool are made dutiable at 30 cents per pound, which is a new provision. Woolen jute shawls etc., are reclassified, as are silks, women's and children's dress goods, buntings and lastings. Carpets are generally unchanged.

Paper hangings, writing and drawing papers, 25 per cent ad valorem; printing paper, 1½ cents per pound. Furs, dressed but unmanufactured, 20 per cent ad valorem; gloves, kid or goat, from $3 to $5 per dozen, gloves or other dressed leather, and known as glace finish, from $2 to $4 per dozen; gloves of undressed leather from $2 to $4 per dozen, for trimmed or lined $1 additional; pique suede 50 cents additional, embroidered 50 cents. Gun powder valued at 20 cents per pound, 5 cents, above 8 cents. Matches 10 cents per gross for boxes containing not more than 100 matches, and when otherwise imported one cent per 1000 matches. Pipes and smokers' articles not enumerated 60 per cent ad valorem; common clay pipes, 25 per cent.

A section prohibits the importation of obscene books, pictures, or images, or of instruments or drugs intended for immoral purposes. A section prohibits the importation of neat cattle, or neat cattle hides from countries where contagion exists. The importation of opium containing more than [illegible] per centum of morphine and of opium prepared for smoking is prohibited.

GOV. LOWRY'S PASSES

It Is Claimed He has Been Guilty of a Misdemeanor

NEW ORLEANS, March 11.—A dispatch from Coffeeville, Mississippi, says a row occurred on the Illinois Central train the other day, because the conductor refused to pass Roderick Lowry, a nephew of Gov Lowry, on the governor's family pass. This exposes the fact that the chief executive of the state is guilty of a misdemeanor, the legislature of 1884 having made it a misdemeanor for any legislative, executive, judicial or other officer holding a position of trust under the state to travel on any railroad without paying absolutely, and without any guise or trick or evasion whatever the same fare required of passengers generally. It seems now that the governor is holding passes on all railroads in the state. The penalty for the first offense against the law is a fine of $25; for the second, a fine of $100 and ten days imprisonment; for the third, a fine of $500 and thirty days imprisonment. The railroad is also liable to a fine of $5000. Great interest is manifested in the matter and further developments are anxiously awaited.

OTHER COAST DISPATCHES

THE IMPRISONED POSSE

TUCSON, Arizona, March 11.—There is no change in the situation of the imprisoned posse in the dungeon at Janos. Many believe the fleeing robbers gave information and had the posse taken on arrival there. As the distance to Chihuahua from Janos is about 250 miles the courier cannot make the trip at the speed usually traveled by the Mexicans inside of a week, and in the meantime the prisoners will have to lie in prison. President Cleveland has signified his intention to examine the matter immediately. The report is not true that they had captured the robbers and were trying to get them back without the necessary requisition papers.

BAKER CITY NOTES

BAKER CITY, Or., March 10.—Baker City is growing rapidly. The contract for our new $30,000 schoolhouse was let yesterday. Some forty buildings are now in course of construction and real estate is changing hands rapidly. The Virtue corner, 25x100, was sold to-day for $11,000.

The republican central committee met and called the convention for April 4.

APPOINTMENTS BY GOV SEMPLE

OLYMPIA, March 10.—Gov Semple made the following appointments to-day: Pilot commissioners for Puget sound, W J Waitt, Seattle; J S Crosby, Tacoma; R W Dalton, Port Townsend. Dr J S Wintermute of Tacoma was appointed regent of the territorial university vice J C Weatherred, who resigned to accept the Tacoma postmastership.

NOMINATED INSPECTOR OF HULLS

SAN FRANCISCO, March 10.—United States District Judge Hoffman, Collector Hager and Supervising Inspector Lubbock met this afternoon and nominated Enoch Talbot, marine surveyor, as successor of Charles Wilson as local inspector of hulls. The nomination will be sent to the treasury department for confirmation.

THE DEAD MONARCH.

Preparations for the Funeral of Emperor William.

THE BODY TO LIE IN STATE.

Russia Conciliatory—Arrival of the Royal Party—Post Mortem—Reception at Berlin—Emperor's Will Regarding His Burial

BERLIN, March 11.—All members of the ministry left by special train at [illegible] this afternoon to meet Emperor Frederick as he returns from San Remo. The special train conveying the royal party arrived at Munich this morning and the [illegible] were tendered a sympathetic reception at the station.

Dowager Empress Augusta last night received Prince Bismarck, who had previously passed some time by the side of the dead monarch. After an interview Bismarck visited Prince William. Another requiem service was held to-day, attended by a large number of distinguished mourners.

It has now been decided to remove the remains of the emperor to the cathedral to-night, where they will lie in state from noon to morrow. The public will be admitted.

St Petersburg papers to-day agree in expressing a wish that Emperor Frederick will continue the friendly policy of the deceased monarch toward Russia. Official Messenger, and Invalide-Russe publish articles with mourning borders, paying warm tributes to the memory of Emperor William.

The whole army by special order of the czar, will wear mourning for four weeks, and the regiments of which the dead emperor was an honorary colonel, for five weeks. On the day of the funeral the whole army will wear full mourning and the use of bugles will be prohibited.

The Kaluga regiment will continue to bear that name. Its vacant honorary colonelcy has been conferred upon Emperor Frederick, who has also been appointed titular commander of the St Petersburg regiment of grenadiers.

IMPERIAL TRAIN AT CHARLOTTENBURG

CHARLOTTENBURG, March 11.—The imperial train arrived here at half past 11, having been delayed by a severe snowstorm. The emperor and empress were greeted by the crown prince and wife, and Prince Henry of Saxe-Meiningen.

The emperor and empress immediately alighted from the train and proceeded through a pavilion profusely decorated with flowers, to their carriage. They were driven direct to the castle along a route densely crowded with people, who manifested great enthusiasm. The royal princess, with Prince Bismarck and suite, continued their journey.

REMAINS TAKEN TO THE CATHEDRAL

BERLIN, March 11.—At 2 A. M. the remains of the emperor had been transferred to the cathedral. The coffin was carried on the shoulders of eighteen soldiers of the body guard through the vestibule of the palace, where it was handed to a number of non-commissioned officers. The streets were lined with double rows of soldiers, every tenth man holding a torch. The funeral procession was headed by a squadron of cuirasseurs. These were followed by detachments of the foot guards and a numerous train of servants of the imperial household. Then came the coffin. The crown prince and other princes followed on foot and the cortege closed with a detachment of cavalry. The throng on the streets was dense.

RECEPTION AT BERLIN

BERLIN, March 11.—The station was filled with an enormous and enthusiastic crowd when the emperor arrived. Among the first visitors was Prince Bismarck. When he entered the saloon to greet the royal party the emperor stepped quickly toward him and repeatedly embraced him. It was noticed that the emperor stood erect, with the empress by his side. The empress also greeted the chancellor most warmly. The ministers were then presented, after which the emperor appeared at the window of the carriage and bowed to the assembled multitude, who greeted him with the greatest enthusiasm.

THE EMPEROR'S WILL

BERLIN, March 12.—The late emperor's will has been opened. It directs that his body shall be interred dressed in field uniform, with a gray military cloak over the shoulders, and a field cap on the head. Upon the body are to be placed decorations of orders of the black eagle and iron cross, second class, the cross of the Russian order of St. George, war medals of 1814, 1864, 1866 and 1870, and the Hohenzollern medal of 184[illegible].

POST MORTEM HELD

BERLIN, March 11.—Prof Hartmann, assisted by Drs Von Lauer, Leopold and Thiemann, conducted a post mortem examination of the emperor's body. They found a calculus the size of a pigeon's egg, which must have caused intense pain.

CHARLES M. HARDING.

He Has a Very Unsavory Record—Some Points of His History

SAN FRANCISCO, March 11.—Charles M. Harding, who with Pearl Page is now under indictment in Portland for stealing $250 of an Alaska merchant, is probably the fellow of that name well known here. Inquiry develops the fact that Harding, who must now be about twenty-six years old, has, ever since a boy of 10 years, been a wayward youth, so much so, in fact, that his father found it necessary to place him on board the Jamestown, where, it was hoped, the quasi naval discipline of that vessel would have a beneficial effect upon the young man's conduct. His release from the vessel was caused by the ship going out of commission. Charles then entered his father's office, but his incorrigibility soon showed itself, and he went East, where he remained a year. On his return his mother, with motherly love for her offspring, paid for his board and lodging at the City hotel, besides allowing him sufficient coin to be looked upon as one of the boys. One of Harding's victims was the wife of a young merchant of this city, who recently came heir to a large fortune by the death of her uncle. The liaison between Harding and the merchant's wife became open and notorious. Soon after this, the merchant's wife proposed to Harding to take a trip north, which was to be extended as far as Portland, her husband supplying means by which his wife was to travel. With her departure from this city, the presence of Charley M. Harding was missed from his favorite haunts. With the publication of the dispatch published here from Portland the whereabouts of Harding was found in the county jail at Portland, and there are those who believe that "Pearl Page," his associate in the robbery of the Alaska merchant, is none other than the San Francisco merchant's wife. During the time that the guilty pair lived in this city, there were those who felt keenly for the young merchant who then bore, and does still, an excellent name among his associates. His family connections are also good.

A ROMANTIC EPISODE.

A Married Couple Accidentally Meet After an Absence of Twenty-five Years.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 11.—The commencement of a wonderful narrative in the lives of two persons dates back twenty five years, when John L. Smith and Catherine Brady were secretly married in county Cavan, Ireland. Smith was a poor boy, while Miss Brady's father was a well-to-do farmer. Mr. Brady was so furious when he discovered his daughter had married without his consent that he refused to recognize Smith as his son in law, or permit his daughter to live with the man whom she had married. Smith resolved to emigrate to the United States, earn sufficient money to send for his wife, and take her away from her father. He lost no time after landing at New York in finding his way into Erie county, Pennsylvania, where he obtained work on a farm. There he saved his money in hopes of soon having sufficient to send for his wife. He wrote her, but received no answer. After a year or two he came to the conclusion she had been sufficiently influenced by her father to discard him, consequently he learned to forget her, and, after some years, married and started west, settling in Oregon, where he owns a fine farm of land and quite a supply of live stock.

During all this time Mrs. Smith had her troubles. The letters written to her by her husband from the United States never reached her. So she came to the conclusion that Smith had deserted her, and to get away from her associates, who were accustomed to jibe her on being neither maid, miss nor widow, she resolved to go to New South Wales. Arriving in Sydney, she went to work as a domestic. Being a fine looking woman, she soon attracted and admired a man named Vaughan, whom she married. After twelve or fourteen years of married life, Vaughan, while out on a surveying expedition in Queensland, was killed by the natives, leaving his wife childless, with but little means. In this condition she struggled along for some years and finally came to San Francisco.

About two weeks ago Mrs. Vaughan went to the Alcazar theatre. On one of the side seats closely where she sat, was a man with gray hair and a weatherbeaten face. During the intermission a young man vacated his seat. This brought the farmer in full view of Mrs. Vaughan. The farmer saw Mrs. Vaughan's face. He paid attention to her voice and heard her laugh at some remark made by a lady. He kept his eyes riveted upon the woman and he waited impatiently until the play was over. When the audience stood up to leave, he kept as near Mrs. Vaughan as he could until the sidewalk was gained, when he excused himself to the ladies and boldly asked Mrs. Vaughan if her maiden name was not Catherine Brady, and if she was not from county Cavan, Ireland. She answered yes, but wished to know why he asked such a question. He said if she would give him her address he would call and inform her why he did so. He was furnished with the address and called next day and made himself known.

It was then discovered that the young couple who were married in Ireland 25 years ago, met in this city, Smith being a widower and Mrs. Vaughan being a widow. A second marriage was deemed not necessary, and the old ties were simply renewed. Mr. and Mrs. Smith are now upon their ranch in Oregon.

CALIFORNIA.

AN OLD FIRM ASSIGNS

SAN FRANCISCO, March 11.—L. N. Handy & Co., coopers and dealers in fish, fishoils, furs and skins, filed yesterday in the office of the county recorder their indenture of assignment whereby they transfer all their assets to Everett D. Jones, as assignee, for the benefit of their creditors. The firm has long been in business in this city, being the first to engage in seal and walrus hunting on the coast. During the past two seasons several firms' sealing schooners have been seized by the United States revenue cutters in Behring sea for illegal hunting and their cargoes confiscated. The firm has spent thousands of dollars in endeavoring to get their vessels released before the United States circuit court here, and the admiralty court in Boston and in bringing the matter to the attention of the president and his cabinet.

THE DRAMA

SAN FRANCISCO, March 11.—At the Baldwin this is the second week of the Booth and Barrett engagement, including "Othello," "Merchant of Venice" and "Macbeth." During the third week "Hamlet," "Julius Cæsar," "Othello," "King Lear" and "Merchant of Venice" will be produced, after which they return East over the Central Pacific. Annie Pixley will succeed them in "The Deacon's Daughter."

At the Bush Street theater "A Hole in the Ground" continues to draw large crowds and will be continued another week.

At the California theater to-morrow night "Paul Kauvar," a drama by Steele Mackaye will be put on.

At the Alcazar to-morrow night Phœbe Davies and Joseph Grismer will appear in "Chispa," one of Greene's plays.

THE ALICE GARRATT

SAN FRANCISCO, March 11.—The wrecker Whitelaw still hovers about the remains of the Alice Garratt, which was turned bottomside up a week ago by the wind, though it is a question as to who shall raise the hulk. The wheel has been raised and placed on the deck, and Whitelaw's crew amused themselves to-day raking over the wreck. Several little trinkets, some small change, a pair of overalls, the remains of a light spring overcoat and a Chinese certificate were dug out. The burned bark Brussel is still lying on the flats, and after the adjusters have finished with her to-morrow the work of repairing will commence.

FELL INTO THE SEA.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 10.—Alfred Wallstrom and Thomas Macklin, sailors, were engaged in adjusting a tight rope, stretched from the Cliff house to one of the seal rocks to-day, when the guy rope, by which they were suspended, broke, and the men were thrown into the water forty feet below. A high sea was running at the time, and the excitement of the spectators on shore was intense. The life-saving crew, after several unsuccessful attempts, launched a life boat, and the men were rescued in an exhausted condition.

"CHRONIC MOROSENESS" THE CAUSE

SAN FRANCISCO, March 11.—George Oulton, pilot on the steamer T. C. Walker, and son of ex-State Senator and ex State Comptroller Oulton, attempted to commit suicide at the Baldwin house this morning by taking an overdose of morphine. He was taken to the hospital, where every effort was made to save his life, but it is thought he will die. Chronic moroseness is the supposed cause.

KILLED BY A TRAIN

SACRAMENTO, March 11.—An unknown man was killed by a train from San Francisco a short distance from this city this afternoon. The man was caught on a trestle and stepped on a stringer, where he would have been safe, but he raised up, believing the train had passed. The steps of the rear coach struck him, cutting his head entirely off. He was dressed as a laborer.

WRESTLER IN TRAINING

SAN FRANCISCO, March 11.—Jimmie Faulkner has gone to the Newport baths to train for his wrestling match with Peter Schumacher, to come off on the 20th in the Olympic club. The latter, who comes from Tacoma, Washington territory, is training in the city. He feels confident of winning in the Græco Roman contest, but thinks Faulkner might win a catch-as-catch-can bout.

VIGILANCE COMMITTEES ORGANIZED

SAN DIEGO, March 10.—The shooting of young E[illegible] by footpads has created great excitement, and vigilance committees were organized last night, that in the Sixth ward adopting resolutions that every man in that ward having no trade or visible means of support be given twelve hours to leave, or suffer penalties to be fixed by the committee.

CONTRACTING FREIGHT AGENT APPOINTED

The Oregonian.

PORTLAND, MONDAY, MARCH 12, 1888.

COMPELLED TO TAKE IT.

It looks as if Ingalls, of Kansas, in his reply to Vest, of Missouri, who had objected to the new pension bill and asked with some warmth "when this business was going to stop," had set forth the case just about as it stands. "I will tell him," said Ingalls, "and every senator on that side of the chamber, whether he likes it or not, what we intend to do. It is going to stop when the arrears of pensions are paid, when the limitation is removed and when every soldier on the rolls, or who gets on the rolls, is paid from the day of his disability, or, in the case of a non-survivor, from the date of that soldier's death, and when every surviving soldier of the army is put on the rolls for service only. That is when it is going to stop, and if you don't like it make the most of it."

This was a severe taunt, but it was not a shot in the air. Ingalls's assertion was verified next day when the senate came to vote on the pension bill. Every democratic senator from a Northern state was forced to vote with Ingalls in favor of the bill. Fear of the soldier vote and soldier influence coerced every one of them, and the bill was passed by 44 to 16. It was edifying to see how the democratic senators from Indiana, New Jersey and Ohio came right up to the scratch. Closely as parties are balanced in those states, and touchy as public sentiment is in them on subjects relating to the war, it wouldn't do for their democratic senators to assert the courage of their desires. But in Kentucky, Missouri and other states the conditions are different. The democratic majorities are overwhelming; the soldier element (that was on the national side) is held in comparatively little esteem; and therefore it was entirely safe for their senators to speak and vote against the bill.

One may not approve the pension bill in all particulars, and yet he may find satisfaction in seeing "old copperheads," like the Indiana senators, compelled to pay tribute both to the soldier and to the cause that they once loaded with measureless obloquy.

Another spectacle will be presented when the bill comes up in the house. It will pass the house, also, because the democratic members from Northern states will be afraid to vote against it. And the last delicious scene of all will be presented when the bill goes to Mr. Grover Cleveland. He will approve it, of course. He dares not veto it in this presidential year, as he did the pension bills that passed the last congress.

RELIEF FOR THE POOR MILLIONAIRE.

Eastern journals, particularly those of mugwump intendment, continue to congratulate the manufacturers upon the new tariff bill as a measure highly advantageous to their particular interests. The Boston Herald says: "We venture the assertion that there is not a woolen, cotton, worsted, carpet, jute or flax manufacturer in the New England states who can honestly assert that the effect of an application of this law would be seriously to embarrass his business." And the Herald goes on to show the manufacturer that "flannels, blankets, dress goods, linings of all sorts and descriptions, have a tax upon them of 40 per cent; clothing and wearing apparel of all kinds, 45 per cent., and trimmings, webbings, fringes, and articles of that easily designated character, a duty of 50 per cent. ad valorem. The same system has been followed in the treatment of cotton, products."

It is admitted, then, that this proposed tariff is a tariff for the rich manufacturer. It will not hurt him at all; rather, it will give him advantages he does not now possess. Upon blankets and all materials of clothing it will give him a protective duty of 40 per cent; upon clothing of all descriptions, 45 per cent., and upon trimmings and the like, 50 per cent. This, in consideration of the fact that he will get his raw materials free, will make protection more valuable to him than it was before. But what of the poor devil of a farmer and wool-grower, who is forced to sell his products in competition with the products of the whole world, and yet to buy his clothing of the manufacturer who is protected against competition?

Here is "tariff reform," offered to the country in the original package. Down with the privileges of that protected baron who produces wool, flax and sawlogs, and up with the rights of the down-trodden manufacturing millionaire! These be hard times. God help the rich, The poor can beg.

A PARTISAN ANNEX.

The Chicago Tribune, whose articles in favor of reduction of the tariff have been giving the democratic brethren great encouragement and delight, repudiates the proposed tariff bill as a "partisan, sectional, unfair and iniquitous measure." It also has the following remarks on the internal revenue partisan annex bill, that was added last Tuesday to the tariff bill:

The partisan tariff bill of the democratic majority in the house is naturally enough followed up by a partisan internal revenue measure. Its first section makes a clean sweep of all taxes on manufactured chewing tobacco, smoking tobacco and snuff, all special taxes upon manufacturers of and dealers in said articles, and all taxes upon wholesale and retail dealers in leaf tobacco. Cigars, cigarettes and cheroots are excepted, this peculiar form of manufactured tobacco probably being regarded as a luxury while the weed in its more primitive form is a necessity of life. The second section provides for a tax of $[illegible] annually on manufacturers of cigars and of $1 on dealers in tobacco. The revenue from tobacco last year in round numbers was $[illegible] 0,000. The total reduction by this bill it is estimated will be about $25,000,000, of which $20,000,000 is on tobacco and $5,000,000 on various special taxes.

The object of this bill is apparent enough. It is on a line with the tariff bill and is made to meet the demands of Virginia and North Carolina and other Southern states. It is another discrimination in favor of Southern industry made to catch the votes of states which the democrats cannot hope to carry. [illegible] Its special taxes though reduced [illegible] keep up the inquisitorial, [illegible] of dealers about which so much complaint has been made, and they will also keep up the army of democratic supervisors and collectors. It is a bill which is sectional in operation and vicious in principle throughout, removing the tax upon an unhealthy and unnecessary luxury which should be made to bear it and thus help to remove some of the burdens upon the actual necessities of life, the most of which are now laid upon Northern consumers. The solicitude of the democrats in the house for the Southern tobacco interests is touching.

In the Lewiston Teller of last week we find the following statement:

On March 1st there still remained at points above Riparia on Snake river the following amounts of wheat awaiting transportation:

	Tons
Points above Lewiston	500
Lewiston	5 0 0
Alpowa	000
Gables	1 000
Kelleys	3 0 0
Texas	2 500
Tramway	1 500
Wawawai	1 5 0
Almota	000
Ilia	1 000
Total	9 500

This does not include that in the ranch granaries and yet to be hauled to the warehouses. Allowing thirty three bushels to the ton and we have 940,500 bushels, which at $1 per bushel would yield $941,500, deducting for freight at $6 per ton, would leave the producer $783,500. This grain has been in store fully two months at about 50 cents per ton, making a cost of $14,250. The interest on this grain at 1 per cent. per month would amount to $15,390, which added to the storage of $14,250, would give to the producers a loss of $29,560 by reason of not being able to ship two months ago. A railroad would have saved all this and the shipper would have paid his debts.

Nearly all of this wheat (with a great deal more shipped out during the past six months) is produced in the country north of Snake river. And still we are told, "not the tenth acre is yet under the plow." Through a slight deficiency in its system the O. R. & N. is unable to serve it fully or promptly. The proposed joint lease, should it be carried out, would put the company in a position where it could not make the necessary improvements in its system. It would, in fact, turn over the whole of this great and rapidly developing business north of Snake river to the Northern Pacific.

THE GERMAN EMPIRE.

The late Emperor William was the first emperor of united Germany. Charles the Fifth, in the middle of the sixteenth century, was emperor of Germany by virtue of the fact that he was son of Philip, Archduke of Austria, and was the grandson of Maximilian I., emperor of Austria, who bore the nominal title of emperor of Germany; but even warlike Charles the Fifth was not emperor of the united Germany that William governed, which includes all the German states. When William came to the throne of Prussia in 1861 his dominions were limited to Prussia as she was constituted at the close of the Napoleonic wars. The Danish war of 1864 assured the possession of Schleswig-Holstein, the war of 1866 with Austria added to Prussia Hanover, Hesse and Nassau, and left Prussia at the head of the North German League. In the war with France Prussia had the help of Bavaria and all the South German provinces, and at its close all these provinces united in pressing upon William's acceptance the imperial crown, which he distinctly accepted as coming to him, not by a divine right, but as an acknowledgment of his services as the victorious defender of the fatherland.

There is not the slightest reason to suppose that William would by force of arms have attempted to make himself emperor of Germany. He accepted the imperial crown as acknowledgment of services, and it was offered him by the provinces independent of Prussia from a deep sense of gratitude, backed by the statesmanship of self interest.

The absolute unity of Germany was first an accomplished fact under William. Germany did not stand for unity under Charles the Fifth's great wars with France; it did not stand for unity in wars of Gustavus Adolphus, it did not stand for unity in the wars of Louis Fourteenth. It did not stand for unity in the wars of the great Napoleon until the universal uprising of 1814. Such a united Germany as William led against France, had it existed in 1806, would probably have saved both Austria and Prussia from destruction. At this distance of time it is difficult to understand how Prussia and the rest of the German states should have remained indifferent spectators to Napoleon's humiliation of Austria. Had Prussia joined hands with Austria and Russia promptly in 1805, the sun of Austerlitz would have probably fallen on a day of defeat for Napoleon; but Prussia never rose in arms until Russia and Austria were beaten and the other German states been overrun or seduced by Napoleon. So successful was Napoleon in his policy that when he marched against Austria in 1809 he included in his army a large corps of South Germans, and in his famous Russian campaign his army included troops from nearly all the German states. Not until 1814 did all Germany rise against him, and with this uprising his overthrow was made complete. Napoleon crushed, the German states resumed their old relations, which were maintained for nearly sixty years, when at the close of the second great universal uprising of Germany against France, sentiment and self interest lifted the people to acceptance of the scheme of imperial unity.

The death of Emperor William is an event of no political consequence to Germany, since it was long ago discounted and prepared for; the death of the crown prince would not shake the unity of the empire, but the death of Bismarck, who is 73 and subject to severe attacks of gout, would be an event of consequence. It would impose the burden of Bismarck upon new, young and untried shoulders. With the death of Bismarck would disappear the last great figure of the victorious war for the fatherland. Moltke is 88 and counts for a dead man. All the leading generals of the Franco-Prussian war are dead, and with the death of Bismarck and the present emperor the fate of Germany will rest upon a young emperor 29 years of age, without a great statesman or great warrior at his elbow to teach him to think wisely and fight well. Under such circumstances, which are likely to become realities at any time, it would not be surprising if the empire of Germany broke of its own weight, should a great war with Russia follow quickly so untoward an event as the death of Bismarck and the accession of young Prince William to the imperial throne.

The postmaster at Gaston, Or., writes that he has read in THE OREGONIAN a circular said to have been issued from Washington to postmasters, requesting them to forward lists of voters. He thinks "there must be some mistake about it, since he hasn't received a copy of the circular himself, but thinks he ought to have received a copy had the circular been issued." We assure him such circular has been issued; it has been printed in all the Eastern papers, of every shade of politics. Possibly the administration has not thought it absolutely necessary yet to send for a list of the voters in Wapato precinct. Moreover, the circular was, we think, addressed chiefly to postmasters in the state of New York.

The Russian government is reducing to form the statistics of the empire collected in 1885. The gross population of the empire at the close of that year is returned at 108,787,235. The total urban population, resident in 1294 cities, is given at 13,?00,000. There are only four cities in the empire that contain more than 200,000 inhabitants each, to wit: St. Petersburg, Moscow, Warsaw and Odessa. Nine cities have populations varying between 100,000 and 200,000, and twenty-three between 50,000 and 100,000. The number of schools of all sorts is 41,492, with a male attendance of 1,850,954, and a female attendance of 688,970. This is a very poor showing for education in so populous an empire.

The Chicago Tribune is booming Gresham by the page for the presidency. It has collected information from all parts of Illinois and concludes that the state will support him as its candidate.

WHAT HOTELS DO

Here is an article from the San Francisco Bulletin that [illegible] would do well to consider. [illegible] these days Portland [illegible] build a hotel for herself, on her own account:

An agent for Eastern tourists gives the key note to the means of hastening the settlement of the northern and central counties of the state with an enterprising class from abroad when he says that one of their needs is "good hotels, where there can be procured good food and comfortable quarters." The people of the southern counties learned this lesson, which this tourist agent is thus reading to the more northern counties, at a very early date in the history of their boom." Not very many years ago, what he says of the central counties was also being said of the southern tier. Eastern visitors, at that time, while willingly conceding the seductive charms of the climate and the wonderful productiveness of the soil, were unanimous in their declarations that the hotel accommodations of Southern California were an abomination. Florida, at that date, knew better how to treat strangers, and it captured the bulk of the tourist traffic by giving its visitors good beds and good board.

It would not be very difficult to prove, perhaps, that the construction of one of the largest caravansaries in the state, adjacent to Los Angeles, provided with the best of accommodations for guests, had a tremendous influence in turning the tide of Eastern tourists toward California, and in that was, in a measure, instrumental in bringing about the wonderful development which, at a later period, has occurred in the southern section of the state. Those of little faith, who shook their heads significantly at the laying of the foundation of that vast hotel on the site of a former bee-ranch, lived to see it crowded with Eastern tourists on the day of opening. Hotel-building has kept abreast of the times in that quarter of the state ever since. No new settlement is laid out without first establishing a site for a good hotel. Frequently the hotel is the first building to go up. It constitutes the nucleus of the new town that clusters rapidly around it. San Luis Obispo, Santa Barbara, San Bernardino, Los Angeles and San Diego counties are full of striking illustrations of the value of hotel building as an agent in the development of settlements. Hotel builders have converted the sandy and unproductive sand spit lying between San Diego bay and the sea into a thing of beauty, making it the site of a growing and enterprising town, provided with all the conveniences and accommodations of modern times for community use and comfort, and giving a fabulous price to land that only three or four years ago was considered of little value. If the modern hotel-builder in California has been a developer of some of hitherto dormant resources, he has also been the discoverer of the practical utility and commercial value of many things and places which had escaped the notice of older settlers.

Some of the most charming spots in the bay counties adjacent to San Francisco have not sufficient allurements at present to persuade the eastern tourist to pay them a visit, for the reason that should he go there he would find no provision made for his physical comfort. Eastern tourists do not visit California for the purpose of roughing it. Those who come here for pleasure want all the comforts that the land can afford to give them, and they are willing to pay for it. The tourist is the forerunner of the land buyer. He frequently becomes one himself. The attractions of the neighborhood he visits are frequently great enough to awaken a desire to make it his permanent home. When this stage of mental evolution has been reached it is then an easy gradation to become an actual purchaser. And so the work of settlement and development goes rapidly on.

The case is briefly but suggestively stated by the tourist agent quoted in the foregoing when he says:

"Tourists will not go where they cannot be well fed and well cared for, no matter how attractive nature has made a place. They do not go away from home to be uncomfortable." The present summer ought to witness great activity in hotel building throughout Upper California.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla is just what you want for a spring medicine—superior to all.

THE STAGE.

THE OPERA.—To-night the Mikado will be presented by the Juvenile Opera Company. The company is composed of little folks and some of them are very little, but they act and sing their respective roles just as well, and in some cases a great deal better than the usual opera company of "big folks." To Messrs. A. Roberts, James Lotan, L. C. Henrichsen, Byron Z. Holmes, L. Fleischner, and others: Gentlemen: In answer to your kind invitation, requesting me to be a candidate for school clerk of district No. 1, I have to tender my thanks for the favorable consideration prompting the request, and to express my acceptance. SCHOOL ELECTION TO-DAY.

Some confusion of names is likely to occur in in voting for school clerk if care is not exercised. Ethan W. Allen who is one of the candidates for that office, is well known to most of the voters from the position he held for a number of years as superintendent of the Mechanics' fair, and still more recently as representing Oregon at the New Orleans exposition, those therefore, desiring to vote for him will need to see that they do not get the wrong ticket as there is another Allen in the field for the same office.

Ready-made Clothing.

The Suits which we manufacture for this department are made for the express purpose of supplying the wants of gentlemen who, believing that the best is the cheapest, are willing to pay a fair price for garments that have been made from carefully selected, thoroughly tested, honest materials, and by skillful, intelligent, well paid labor.

Prudent people deal with us, knowing that the prices we put on our goods are, considering quality, always the lowest. They know, also, that we put before them no old stock, but strictly new goods in their season.

Spring Suits

Although we have had but little real spring weather as yet, our sales of Light-Weight Suits have surpassed our greatest expectations, compelling us to telegraph East for immediate supplies. This is not so surprising when you consider that our display this spring has never been equaled in the Northwest for Elegance and Quality, while prices are lower than ever before.

Some men usually have poor luck in finding ready-made clothing to fit. They come in here with an expression of incredulity as they say, "Let's see those Spring Overcoats or Suits you advertise." The expression becomes one of satisfaction the moment the gentleman beholds in a mirror how perfectly the garments fit, and he is at once convinced that he can get of us just what he wants in the way of a Spring Suit or Light-weight Overcoat.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

"TAKE YOUR BASE."—Baseball circles are rather quiet this spring. At least such is the case on this side of the river. The Willamettes, of East Portland, have reorganized, with Joe Knott as manager and J. W. Beveridge as secretary. The personnel of the club is about the same as last year, with the valuable addition of Frank Buchtel and W Buchtel, formerly of the Portlands. The following are the members of the nine. F Buchtel, W. Garson, R. Turnbull, S. Parrott, W. Kerns, W. E. Parrott, G. McCarthy, A. G. Parrott and F. Bailey. This will certainly make a strong combination. On this side of the water little has been done as yet. The prime movers in former years, Ed Lyon and Fred Martin, seem to be out of the managerial ring this year. Both complain of a lack of the time which they would have to devote to the matter. It is reported that a strong battery is to be imported from Salt Lake City for the Portlands, when they do organize. If the Portlands or any other club do reorganize they will probably be under the management of Lou Coulter. Mullee and Creagan, both well known here in former years, are in San Francisco, where they have made great records for themselves. Busby, one of the pitchers of last year's Portlands, is said to be in Salt Lake City, and wants to return here this summer. A piece of ground has been purchased by Dick Clinton and McCoy in Stephens addition, East Portland, which will be fenced and laid off for base ball grounds. The property is just beyond the Fourth street foot bridge, on the bluff close by the river. The streetcar track is to be laid close to the grounds, which will be a great advantage. The property selected is level, and with a little work can be made into a fine diamond, with a broad, open out-field. It is reported also that Mr. Campbell, of the Morrison street bridge, has made an offer to lay out a diamond in Holladay's addition, East Portland, to which the streetcars would run direct. The Willamettes, however, have agreed to play on the Clinton & McCoy grounds, and no where else, for one year, but the contract is not yet signed.

DIED OF CONSUMPTION.—Frederick M Stump, well known here and in The Dalles, died here at an early hour yesterday morning. He was born at Sacramento in 1857 and was the only son of the late Capt Thomas J Stump, the Napoleon of swift-water pilots so long and favorably known as master of steamers on the upper Columbia and Snake rivers. His father had preceded him across the shadowy river nearly seven years. Mr Stump inherited none of his father's masterly tact in navigation, but fell heir to all his genial manner and native politeness. He entered active life in 1877 as watchman on his father's boat, the Northwest, then running as an opposition boat between Wallula and Lewiston. After the sale of that boat to the Oregon Railway & Navigation Company Mr Stump came to this city and entered the company's employ as a clerk under the car accountant. He remained there seven years, the support of his widowed mother and the model young man of his age. When Mr. Holcomb was appointed to succeed Mr Prescott as manager, young Stump got the idea there was going to be a general decapitation and resigned, to accept the post of registry clerk in the postoffice. During this period he contracted a severe cold and begun to show evidences of quick consumption. Some of his friends advised a trip to the Sandwich islands, which was at that season the worst thing he could have done. Finding he grew no better his faithful friend and companion, Charles Overbaugh, advised an immediate return, and the poor lad reached home just three weeks ago. His mother and sisters were unremitting in their attentions and the best medical skill was invoked, but all in vain, for the frail thread of life was severed yesterday. His death will be generally regretted by a large circle of acquaintances. Mr. Stump was in his thirty-first year.

CHASING A BOAT LOAD OF SAILORS.—On Thursday of last week, Mr. Pratt of the Mariner's home, and Larry Sullivan, of pugilistic fame, chartered the steam launch Alarm, and started down the river for Astoria with twenty-two men, as a crew for the British bark Lucipara. The Astoria boarding house runners had evidently heard of Messrs. Pratt & Sullivan's intentions, for a party of them in the launch Lillian, of Astoria, came out with the chief of police on board and running up to the Alarm, Sullivan was taken off on a warrant, when the Lillian steamed back to the wharf. After this she again started out and chased the Alarm down towards the Lucipara, but it was a stern chase, the Alarm showing a keen pair of heels. When the ship was reached the launch steamed alongside, and after hailing the captain, he was told his crew were on hand. The captain who had been intimidated by the runners refused to take the men, saying he was not ready to sail. The Lillian then came up, the runners at once boarding the ship, when guns and revolvers were displayed, and the Alarm and her passengers threatened with dire destruction. The matter finally wound up by the Alarm's starting back up the river with all her passengers. On Friday evening when she got up to the mouth of the Willamette the sailors were transferred to the steamer Maria, where they were kept on it yesterday when they were brought back to the Mariner's Home. They all declare their willingness to ship on the vessel and will probably go down to-day or to-morrow.

ARMY OF THE POTOMAC VETERANS.—The roll of the Society of the Army of the Potomac shows that the following members of the society reside in the Northwest: Wm A. Bantz, sergeant Seventh Maryland infantry, Portland, G. W. Bremm, Fiftieth Pennsylvania Veteran volunteers, Boise City, I. T., N. H. Camp, first lieutenant and brevet major signal corps, Boise City, A. P Carr, Nineteenth regiment Indiana volunteers, Tacoma, J. S. Fletcher, major and brevet lieutenant-colonel Twenty-Third infantry, U. S. A., Fort Spokane, O D Green, major adjutant-general's department, Vancouver barracks, John McDonald, hospital steward, Fort Klamath, Or., S J. Mulhall, second lieutenant Fourteenth infantry, Vancouver barracks, Wm. H. Nye, first lieutenant Seventh Massachusetts volunteers, Boise City, Watson C Squire, brevet colonel Nineteenth, New York, Seattle, B. B. Tuttle, captain First Connecticut cavalry, Portland, C. D. Warner, Q. M. S., Lewiston, Idaho.

HOW THEY WORK IT.—"How much did that man give you?" asked one tramp of another who had accosted a gentleman on First and Washington streets last evening. "Twenty-five cents," was the rejoinder. "That's very strange," said tramp No 1 plaintively. "You have 'struck' four men in succession, and each one has 'pungled,' while I have asked nearly a dozen persons for enough to pay for my lodgings this dreary, rainy night, and not one has paid a bit of attention to me." "Oh, you wanted money to get lodgings, did you? That dodge does not work any more, neither does the request for coin to get something to eat. I tell a man out and out that I need liquor and must have it, and but few men will refuse to give you 10 cents for that purpose. It's the best scheme a-going."

THE ALBINA SCHOOLS.—The annual report of the school directors of Albina district shows that eight teachers are now employed at a monthly expense of $471 11. During the year a commodious building was erected at a cost of $6121 70, including the cost of the grounds. There is now seating capacity for 347 pupils. The number of children of school age in the district is 71[illegible], an increase of eighty two during the year. Clerk Pittenger's report showed that the receipts for the year were $15,179 70, disbursements $11,856 86, cash on hand $3322 84. The taxpayers elected G W Heath director and George Sinfield clerk and voted a one mill tax for the purpose of finishing two rooms in the new school house and a two mill tax for the employment of two additional teachers.

SCHOOL ELECTION TO-DAY.—This afternoon the annual school election will take place. A director to serve for five years and a clerk for one year will be chosen. Mr L. Therkelsen being the only candidate for director, his election is conceded. The principal fight will be for the clerkship. There are four candidates in the field, Miss Anna M Cremen, who is now bookkeeper with John Cran & Co. Messrs. Ward S Stevens, E. W Allen and H S Allen, the other candidates, are well known. The polls will open at 2 P. M. and close at 6. The polling places are as follows: First ward, Third and A streets; Second ward, corporation shed, Fourth street, between Yamhill and Morrison; Third ward, southeast corner of First and Jefferson streets.

DEVELOPING THE BATTALION ORGANIZATION.—To-morrow evening there will be a battalion drill at the regimental armory, in which the Portland companies A, E, G, I and K will participate. Speaking about these drills, a second lieutenant said yesterday: "The drills, which are entirely different from anything we have ever had, are greatly developing the battalion organization, and at the close of this series any person will be able to discern the wonderful improvement that has been made. Our battalion and regimental drills are fairly good in comparison with those of our Eastern brothers. In regard to company work, but some of the Portland companies is far ahead of many of the Eastern companies."

PASSENGER AND FREIGHT BUSINESS.—The managers of the Pacific Coast steamship line admit that the opening of the California and Oregon road has made serious inroads in their passenger business, says the San Francisco Chronicle. They say, however, that the railroad is getting very little of the freight traffic. A new railroad freight tariff for through business between this city and Portland will soon be issued, with the intention of turning as much freight as possible to the overland route. This is expected to make competition for this business pretty warm. The steamship line managers say they are sure to have the best of the fight, as they can make lower rates than the railroad company can afford to haul freight for. They say that although in the course of time their passenger business may be reduced to a considerable extent, they will always be able to control the freight traffic. Travel east over the Northern Pacific is increasing at a rapid rate owing to the new facilities for reaching that line from this city.

MEETING TO-NIGHT.—The stockholders of the Oregon & Washington Fish Propagating Company will meet to-night, at 7 30 o'clock, at the board of trade rooms, for the purpose of discussing the proposition of turning over the Clackamas salmon hatchery to the United States fish commission. In many ways this seems to be desirable. Among other advantages derived would be the cutting down of the expense of the concern to the state. In case the company decides not to accept the proposition it is more than probable that the government will establish a hatchery on some stream near the Columbia.

GOES TO ALBANY.—Officer W. A. Hart goes up to Albany to-morrow to appear as witness against Wm. O'Brien, to be tried there to-day on a charge of stealing some knives from a hardware store in the latter place. Officer Hart arrested O'Brien here on December 24, when he had a lot of knives in his possession. THE OREGONIAN published the fact and Mr Sox, reading the account, came to Portland and identified the property as belonging to him. O'Brien has made two or three attempts to break jail, but failed each time.

NEW SCHOOLHOUSE FOR MOUNT TABOR.—At the annual meeting of the taxpayers of Mount Tabor school district Mr. Baker was elected director, and Mr. Isaac Kay was re-elected school clerk. It was decided to erect a $2000 schoolhouse on the grounds occupied by the present school, which will be moved a short distance away. A tax of one mill was levied for the support of the schools the ensuing year, and a five-mill tax for the proposed building. The tax will raise $1000, and the remaining $2000 will be borrowed.

THE SKIDMORE FOUNTAIN.—At the last meeting of the Skidmore fountain committee it was decided to ask the city to prepare the ground at the intersection of First and A streets and prepare the foundation upon which the fountain is to rest. A petition to this effect was submitted to the council at the last meeting and referred to a committee. Advices received are to the effect that the fountain is about ready for shipment to this city, and it will not be many months before it will be in position.

ACCOMMODATIONS AT ST. LOUIS.—Shortly after it was decided to hold the national democratic convention in St Louis a local democrat wrote to that city inquiring about accommodations for delegates and visitors. He has been informed that during the convention plenty of rooms will be obtainable at resonable rates, and besides, the better class of hotels will accommodate 20,000 persons.

DRAPED IN MOURNING.—The O R. & N. headquarters building in this city has been draped in mourning in honor of Thomas J Potter, late vice-president of the Union Pacific system. All offices and station houses along the line will also be draped for thirty days. All lines will be suspended the day of the funeral.

U S CIRCUIT COURT.—Judge Deady will announce a decision this morning in this court on the petition of Durkheimer & Burkheimer, to have the receiver in Gert v. Packwood, pay their account for goods furnished the superintendent of the Eldorado ditch shortly before the appointment of the receiver.

THE DEMOCRATIC TARIFF BILL.

Meeting of the Board of Trade To-Night to Consider it.

PORTLAND, Or., March 11.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN.

The meeting of the board of trade to-morrow evening, when the report of the committee to whom was referred the matter of reduction of duties on lumber, lead and wool, will be presented, will be of considerable interest as involving an expression of opinion by our mercantile community on a very momentous matter. That it infringes on political topics (which if possible should be avoided in a board of trade meeting), cannot be helped, inasmuch as the free trade propensities of President Cleveland have been pandered to by the democrats in congress in a tariff bill in which lumber and wool are placed upon the free list, and the duty on lead is reduced $15 per ton.

As is well known, Portland is the home of a large number of English merchants having intimate relations with the mother country and full of the inspiring fervor of free trade from interested motives. The president of the board of trade is of that number. One of the members of the committee first referred to is an exporter and his affiliation is supposed to be in the same direction. Another member of the committee is the chairman of the democratic state central committee, and although it was at his instance that the committee was proposed to condemn any action by congress looking to reduction of duty on lead, it remains to be discovered whether he will maintain the attitude of his party, now that it has declared itself, or be true to his recorded protestations. It therefore stands the members of the board of trade in hand to be present in full force to-morrow night that no seeming acquiescence will be given to democratic policy through the finesse of a majority report.

Nine professed free traders out of ten have some pet industry they desire to have protected, and by such a attitude prove their inconsistency and selfishness. The politician who, if he can save the special interests of his "deestrict," is willing to vote for free trade for the rest of the country, is a callous hog, but fairly illustrates the position of thousands everywhere on the same subject. It is only seemly and just that if protection is retained for any article of American production or manufacture that it should be conceded to all. The hue and cry that some articles are so highly protected as to make the purchase price excessive is a flimsy pretense, when it is known that we are a free trade community of sixty million people and that there are no manufactories but that can be opposed by other manufactories and money is so plentiful that anything promising fair returns of interest makes eager investment in all directions. That syndicates and trusts occasionally pinch us by combination argues nothing, as the same would be undertaken on a more gigantic scale if our ports were open for old world capitalists to join in such unholy alliances. That wool has been placed upon the free list seems to demand considerable explanation to the farmer by democrats, and much patting on the back, and Mr Irish has been deputed by President Cleveland to visit Oregon and explain from that virtuous fountain-head how innocent the intention is of hurting the farmer.

Besides wool the following articles are to be put on the free list as a mark of "distinguished consideration" for farmers. They are copied from the New York World, which publishes the bill entire. Besides lumber of every conceivable description are hubs, posts, last blocks, staves, pickets, palings, lath, shingles, clapboards, pine and spruce logs, flax, straw, tow, hemp, sisal-grass and other vegetable fibres, * * * beeswax, gelatine, soap stocks, soap, hard and soft, extract of hemlock or other bark used for tanning, hemp seed, rape seed, flax seed or linseed, cotton seed, potash of all descriptions, wood tar, coal tar and all preparations of the same, all essential oils, ocher and ochery earths, all barks, beans, berries, balsams, buds, bulbs, bulbous roots, fruits, flowers, grains, dried fibres, gums, gum resin herbs, leaves, lichens, nuts, roots and stems, vegetables, seeds, weeds, woods used expressly for dyeing and dried insects, mineral substances in crude state, brick, vegetables in their natural state or in salt or brine, Chicory root, ground or unground, dates, plums, prunes, currants, figs, meat, game, poultry, milk, beans, pease and split peas, feathers, grease, garden seeds, osier or willow broom corn, brushwood and tallow.

If this list doesn't touch pretty nearly everything the dear farmer produces, there is one other article on the free list, too, which the democrats, in their commiseration, have added, and that is rags, and with this for the reader's reflection, will leave him to judge of the incalculable damage attempted to be wrought under Cleveland's dictation on hundreds of other articles of American production and manufacture.

No Change in the Strike Situation.

ARTHUR AGAIN INTERVIEWED

Mrs Sullivan is Glad Her Husband Did Not Win—Dempsey Eager to Fight Mitchell—A Furious Storm in New York

NEW YORK, March 11.—A meeting with closed doors, of delegates from different local assemblies throughout the United States of the brotherhood of engineers and firemen was held in Tammany hall to-day. About 1800 delegates, representing 20,000 engineers and firemen, were present. The situation on the Burlington road was explained by one of the strikers, and then a resolution was adopted as follows:

Resolved, That we, as law abiding citizens of the United States, declare to the railway managers who have been secretly aiding and abetting the Burlington road with a view of defeating the just demands of its old engineers and firemen, by sending them incompetent and irresponsible persons as engineers and firemen, thereby endangering the public safety, that if they do not withdraw said men from the service of said company we as individuals will use our own discretion about remaining in their employ after a certain date. We do not say to the managers of certain railroads connecting with the Burlington that they shall not exchange traffic for being aware of the duties of common carriers we do not propose to interfere with the laws governing the same but as individuals we recommend that each and every engineer and fireman in the employ of such connecting road, or system, use his own individual judgment as to whether it will be for his interest to remain in the employ of such railroads after a certain date.

The resolutions further pledge moral and financial support to the strikers, condemn the action of the Burlington road as mean, penurious and worthy of the contempt of all fair minded men.

It is declared that the Burlington road is positively misrepresenting its present condition.

Thanks are extended to certain managers of railroads connecting with the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy for kindness already extended, and to the managers of other roads, who have given the men assurance of favorable consideration. Also to the friends of the press, pulpit and elsewhere, it is recommended that the engineers and firemen call a special session of their respective grand conventions to be held at Chicago at an early date.

CONFERENCE OF GRIEVANCE COMMITTEES.

CHICAGO, March 11.—It is understood that to-morrow or next day another general conference of the grievance committees will be held for the purpose of discussing the question of handling Quincy freight. At this meeting the Eastern and Western roads will be represented. Representatives of the Lake Shore and Pennsylvania companies are already in the city, and delegates are expected to arrive to-morrow from the Michigan Central, Baltimore & Ohio, Chicago & Eastern Illinois, Chicago & Grand Trunk, Chicago & Atlantic, Nickel Plate, and Louisville, New Albany & Chicago. It is not expected, unless something unlooked for happens, that any action will be taken until after the announcement of the decision by Judge Gresham in the case of the Wabash.

STOPPED HANDLING BURLINGTON FREIGHT.

CHICAGO, March 11.—A Times special from St. Louis says: "All the railroads terminating in East St. Louis stopped handling Burlington freight at 6 o'clock this evening. This was due to the resolution adopted at the meeting of engineers, firemen and brakemen this afternoon. Twelve roads are affected by the order."

THE STRIKE APPROVED.

PITTSBURG, March 11.—A general meeting of the brotherhood of engineers, in which all local brotherhoods were represented, was held to-day, and the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy strike and the manner in which it is being conducted, was approved. The moral and financial support of all lodges represented was pledged. As to the matter of the strike on lines centering in Pittsburg, nothing whatever was said, and several delegates when spoken to, said nothing was further from their minds.

CHIEF ENGINEER ARTHUR TALKS

He Expresses His Views, and Pays the Brotherhood a Very High Compliment.

CHICAGO, March 11.—Chief Engineer Arthur said to an associated press reporter this afternoon that he considered the decision of the Iowa railroad commissioners eminently fair and impartial. He also thought the letter of Gov. Larrabee to President Perkins, of the Burlington, would be commended by the travelling public, and the public generally.

"The governor, after a thorough investigation," said he, "has found there is something to arbitrate," the Burlington officials to the contrary notwithstanding, and has advised the president of the 'Q' accordingly, as to the situation having been narrowed down to a game of freeze out. It remains to be seen how long the directors and stockholders will sustain the present bankrupt policy of the management. It is a policy with no sufficient cause. For our part, we are confident the Brotherhood can stand it longer than the owners of the road will be willing to sanction. Our advices are that but 30 per cent. of the usual local business is being done, and no through business. Burlington members of the Brotherhood will be sustained by the entire organization just as long as the men wish or require help, and that is certainly longer than the 'Q' can go without through freight or fast passenger trains. None of the Brotherhood men have deserted," added the chief with evident pride, "and I predict none of them will."

The chief then referred to the clause in the constitution of the order requiring the instant expulsion of any man found intoxicated, and notification to the road employing him that he was an unfit person to have charge of an engine, as well as to other tests of character, and said:

"During the past fourteen years not a single Brotherhood engineer ever deserted his engine without using every possible precaution to save the lives of his passengers, and the public well know how many have died at their post of duty. I attribute this remarkable record to the fact that these men must be sober, skilled, moral, intelligent men of nerve and principle. In all this, the great public have been benefited during the life of the organization. I have only to say further, that the nerve of these men has and will be demonstrated in the 'Q' strike."

GOV. ADAMS'S OPINION.

He Advises the Railroad Officials to Accede to the Demands of the Strikers.

DENVER, March 11.—Gov Adams, in conversation with the associated press agent to-night regarding Larrabee's letter to President Perkins and the decision of railroad commissioners at Des Moines yesterday, said:

I am of the opinion that the decision of the commissioners upon the matter of permitting incompetent engineers to run passenger trains on the Burlington road is right and just, and no man who has not proved himself fully competent to run a locomotive should be permitted to jeopardize the lives of hundreds of passengers, as well as the property of the company by being put in charge of a train. Were my opinion asked as to the best way to settle the present trouble, I would advise the officials of the Burlington road to accede at once to the demands of the engineers and firemen, upon the basis paid these men by other corporations having as extensive territory as the Burlington. If this is impossible, then I heartily agree with the ideas the governor of Iowa embodied in his letter to President Perkins, advising a settlement by arbitration immediately.

She Says She Is Glad the Doughty Champion Did Not Win

NEW YORK, March 11.—The Herald's East Centerville (R. I.) special says Mrs. John L Sullivan is living quietly here with her mother, and when told the result of the fight she said: "I am glad of it. I wish Mitchell had killed him. He is great, but no good. He often told me he could do nothing unless he made a big assault at first and overpowered his man by his superior weight. Mitchell is a dodger, and he kept him at bay until he lost his wind, and then my brave John L. was winded and helpless. He is a greatly overrated man. He will die a beggar, as he deserves to do for his ill treatment of me."

"Will you live with him again?"

"Never. If he was made of gold and there was not another man in the world, I would never listen to him again."

"Do you propose to get a divorce?"

"Yes, as soon as I raise the mortgage on my house in Boston, which he contracted to pay off."

BIG JOHN L.

What Several Leading Sporting Men Say About the Fight

BOSTON, March 11.—The subscription, which has been going on for the gigantic benefit upon Sullivan's return, has been peremptorily discontinued, and bets are offered, that he will never return to Boston. The prevailing opinion is that he was not, and never has been, for the past two years, in proper condition. Since he has been in Europe he has been the constant companion of fast women who were his ruin. It is thought he will come back and take to drink to drown his chagrin.

Patsey Shepard, Sullivan's old trainer, says he was not properly trained from the first. The men who had him in charge puffed him up, and used him as a means of enjoying themselves. "I am surprised that, considering the size of the ring and Sullivan's inability to run that Mitchell did not finish him."

Dave Blanchard, president of the athletic club and father of the celebrated fair play rules, says the ring was too large. Sullivan, he thinks, is done for, but must blame himself.

Billy Spencer, the well-known trainer, said: "Sullivan wouldn't take any advice but his own. His bluff succeeded so as to make him feel over-secure, and that he dissipated, I believe, to hide his shame. He will return home, take to drink and never be heard of again as a pugilist."

Boyle O'Reilly says he can't understand it. It can't be a fake, as Sullivan could not afford to countenance such. It must be Sullivan was sold out by his trainers.

EAGER FOR THE FRAY.

Jack Dempsey Still Desires to Meet Charley Mitchell.

NEW YORK, March 11.—Jack Dempsey, the pugilist, well-known in Portland, Or., and who married an East Portland girl, stood in the lobby of the Metropolitan hotel in Williamsburg this afternoon chatting with friends. He looked the picture of health. He had his traveling bag in his hand, and was just bidding his wife goodby, as he started for Pittsburg to spar a week as a member of the Billy Madden combination.

A reporter asked the champion if, after reading the detailed account of the Sullivan-Mitchell fight, his desire to fight Mitchell was as strong as ever.

"I'm not scared a bit," said Jack, pleasantly. "I've read the report of the fight and I want to say that I'm not afraid to meet Mitchell at any time and fight him to a finish. I've beaten McCaffrey, who whipped Mitchell, and I fought to a draw and really whipped Jack Burke, who fought Mitchell to a draw. I would like to get a chance to meet Mitchell."

A FURIOUS STORM.

Telegraphic Lines Prostrated Between New York and Washington and Other Points

NEW YORK, March 12, 1 30 A. M.—A furious storm of wind, accompanied successively by rain, snow, hail and sleet, broke over the Atlantic coast in this section early Sunday evening. It traveled in a northeasterly direction, as is evidenced by the loss of telegraphic communication, first with Washington, then with Baltimore, and lastly with Philadelphia. It is safe to say no such a destructive storm to telegraph wires has been experienced in a number of years. Not a single wire can be used to Philadelphia, and telegraphic facilities between that city and New York are probably unequalled in any similar distance in any other country. For the first time in years, the daily weather report has failed. Strenuous efforts had been made to reach the capital by way of Chicago, but they were in vain.

EASTERN NEWS ITEMS.

CALL FOR THE CONVENTION ISSUED.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 11.—The chairman of the national committee of the Union labor party has issued a call for the national convention at Cincinnati May 15. The basis of representation will be two delegates from each congressional district in the several states and territories, and two at large from each state. The call says in part: "This is not a movement of politicians intent on capturing the spoils of office. Let the coming convention be the nucleus for a grand federation of labor, let us agree upon essential principles common to all, and leave the details of opinion and theories to be settled in the respective state organizations, as the diversified interests of the country may demand."

PHELPS COMING HOME

New York, March 11.—A Tribune special from London says Phelps, the American minister is going home on a leave for sixty days. He says this is his first trip home, since he became minister. In three years, during which he has been in London, Phelps has made for himself a distinguished position, alike as a scholar, orator and diplomatist. His social success has not been less conspicuous. Seeing that he had to follow Lowell he has really achieved remarkable things. Ninety nine men out of 100 would have come to grief, stepping into the shoes of the author of "The Biglow Papers."

A WEEK'S RECORD OF SUICIDES.

CHICAGO, March 10.—Chicago furnishes a startling array of suicides for the week just closing. Of those who have managed to fly from the ills and misfortunes of life by self-destruction, five were men and four were women, and two others, man and woman, made attempts to end their own lives without succeeding. Three women chose rat poison, one tried burning, and another preferred hanging. Two men chose revolvers, one took chloral, another vitriol, and two took to strangulation. This is the record of the last seven days in a nutshell.

JUMPED THE TRACK

ROCHESTER, N. Y., March 11.—At a crossing within twenty rods of Solo station, on the East Erie railroad, this morning the forward driving wheels of the passenger engine left the track. The train rushed past the station, tearing away the platform and running into the wooden water tank at the west end, which brought the train to a stop. Eight passengers were seriously injured, by being thrown about in the car. Two of them will probably die.

PURCHASED BY PULITZER.

NEW YORK, March 11.—French's hotel has been sold to Joseph Pulitzer of the World for $[illegible]30,000, $20,000 less than the figure at which it has been held at for some time. It occupies an entire block in Park Row between Frankfort street and the bridge entrance, except a small store. The hotel building will be torn down and Pulitzer will erect a building for his paper.

STRIKE DECLARED OFF.

HAZELTON, Pa., March 11.—The Knights of Labor have declared a miners' strike in Lehigh region off, and in a few days every colliery will be at work. The community at large are highly elated over the prospect of the resumption.

TO BE APPOINTED RECEIVER.

WASHINGTON, March 11.—It is understood that ex-Assemblyman Wilcox, of Erie county, N. Y., will be appointed receiver of the land office at Walla Walla, W. T., by the president to-morrow.

BANK STATEMENT

NEW YORK, March 10.—The weekly bank statement shows a reserve decrease of $1,257,000. Banks now hold $11,492,000 in excess of legal rule.

CRIMINAL CALENDAR.

A DOUBLE TRAGEDY.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., March 11.—Intelligence which has just been received gives an account of a double murder at Springerville, A. T., Tuesday last, at the store of Spolling Bros. & Taylor. A quarrel arose between Wm Pitman and a young man named Blaine, recently from Texas. They agreed to go outside and fight it out. They pulled pistols and fired almost simultaneously. Pitman fell dead, being shot through the heart. Blaine was shot in the shoulder the ball striking the shoulder blade, splitting it in twain, one-half coming out on the left side below the ribs, and the other on the right side. Blaine lived only two hours.

A FUGITIVE CAUGHT BY CHANCE.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., March 10.—A number of officers and directors of the Diamond Match Company passed through the city to-day en route to California. They stopped here for a few hours, when one of their number met George W Hill, who had been their agent at New Orleans, but left there February 15, and had not been heard from since. He was arrested and charged with embezzlement of $10,000. The prisoner waived examination, and announced his intention of returning without the necessary requisition papers. He is now in jail.

A GRAVE CHARGE.

DENVER, March 11.—Sheriff Stoddard, of Rice county, Kan., arrived here yesterday with requisitions from the governor of Kansas for the arrest of A C Myers and F West, charged with the murder of Archibald Douglass, a stockman of Lyons, Kansas, twelve years ago. They are accused by two of the most prominent and wealthiest citizens of Durango county, both having families and connected with the church. The sheriff left here this morning to make the arrests.

BALD KNOBBERS SENTENCED.

ST LOUIS, March 11.—Ten Douglas county, Missouri, bald knobbers, who were convicted last September in the United States court at Jefferson City, of whipping and driving two homesteaders from government land, have been sentenced by Judge Krekel to from two to six months in the penitentiary with costs. Three others who attempted the intimidation of government witnesses, were each given sixty days in the jail.

THE REWARD INCREASED.

CHICAGO, March 11.—General Superintendent of Police Hubbard announces to-night that he is authorized by the widow of Amos J Snell to offer, in lieu of previous amounts, a reward of $10,000 for the arrest and detention until identified by Chicago authorities, of Wm. B Tascott, the supposed murderer of her husband. The reward holds good for sixty days from date.

THE USUAL LYNCHING.

TRENTON, Ga., March 11.—Tom Poof, a negro who attempted a criminal assault on Mrs. Jos. Morrison, and who was arrested in Chattanooga Thursday and taken to Trenton, was taken from the jail and hanged in the public square by a mob last night.

March, April, May are the months to purify the blood—now take Hood's Sarsaparilla.

A CALLOW CRITIC

PORTLAND, March 11.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN.

In one of the so-called Sunday papers I notice the following uncalled-for, senseless and impertinent criticism of Mr. D. P. Thompson and his very interesting letters to THE OREGONIAN:

In his last letter from Egypt Mr. Thompson says that not one person out of a hundred ever makes the ascent of the great pyramid and adds for our information that he did. Most remarkable man this Mr. T. I fear he is a little conceited. He does not mention anything about visiting the interior of the great pyramid. That is considered the most difficult task at least we found it so. Surely Mr. T. is a most remarkable traveller.

This appears in one of the tiresome communications furnished by a writer of doubtful sex, signing itself "Mabel," lately returned, it seems, from a "grand tour." The remarks concerning Mr. Thompson recall the following lines, which are as applicable now as when written:

Oft has it been my lot to mark
Some proud conceited, talking spark,
Returning from a [illegible] tour
Grow ten times prouder than before.
Whatever word you chance to drop
This traveled fool your mouth will stop
With "excuse me, sir, but you'll allow,
I've seen, and sure I ought to know."

Now Mr. Thompson may not have had the educational advantages enjoyed by "Mabel," and probably has not studied his guide book so attentively, but in his description of his visit to the Royal opera at Paris was more of wit and humor, and in any one of his letters more information and practical good sense than can be found in all the silly twaddle and gush written by "Mabel."

If visiting the interior of the great pyramid is such a difficult task, as "Mabel" says "we" found it, Mr. Thompson may readily be excused from having attempted it, as from his stature he is not so well adapted for exploring rat holes as some tourists.

DEATH OF THE SENIOR ENDICOTT

SALEM, Mass., March 11.—William Putnam Endicott, father of the secretary of war, died to-day aged 85.

COR. 2ND & MORRISON STS.

But we won't say any more to-day, except this, that we do no

DRUMMING

Nor any soliciting on the street or anywhere else; but if you choose to call on us we will be very much pleased to show you our LATE SPRING STYLES, so you can compare prices with those you wish to, and we assure you we WON'T URGE YOU to buy.

Very Respectfully,
